ADDRESS: Evans Street, Curepe, Trinidad & Tobago, West Indies.

St Augustine Girls High School (SAGHS) is located at Evans Street, Curepe on the beautiful island of Trinidad. Trinidad is the larger of the two islands that make the Republic of Trinidad & Tobago which are the southern most islands in the Caribbean.

In Trinidad & Tobago, the education system is structured at two levels; a Primary Level (ages 5-12 years) and a Secondary Level (ages 12-19 years). SAGHS is a secondary school.

SAGHS is a government assisted secondary school, which offers a seven year program of study to girls age eleven to nineteen. The school has a staff of forty odd teachers and a student population of seven hundred odd students.

Our students come from diverse social, cultural and religious backgrounds and have been chosen from the top 3% of girls writing the SEA examination. Founded on the 19th September 1950, SAGHS is one of five Presbyterian Secondary Schools in Trinidad & Tobago.

This school is a gem among secondary schools having evolved over the many years of its existence into an educational institution renowned for its academic as well as extra curricular achievements.

All pages, except STAFF, will be prepared by students of SAGHS.

This site will be revised and updated regularly.
